HOW THIS IDEA BECAME BROUGHT

Regarding MUSC 2770 : Special Topics

My name is Yeana, and I am majoring in Computer Science. I have earned Commercial Music Certificate from Bakersfield College 2 years ago then transferred to CSUB's Computer Science department, and Audio Programming sounds so interesting.

I have just read your email regarding MUSC 2770 and hope that it is not too late to ask about MUSC 2770.

I tried finding MUSC 2770 in My CSUB portal, but I do not see it. Is the class offered this semester?
If not, do you think that it would be offered in the next semester?

Thank you,
Yeana

Hello Yeana,

I'm pleased to hear off your interest in the class. Unfortunately, the class was cancelled by the administration because not enough students signed up for it. I'm not sure if it will be offered next semester, but I definitely want to teach that class at some point in the future.

ABOUT DR. SHAW

- Obtained Doctor of Musical Arts from University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign in 2018 after studying electronic and computer music .
- Has presented electro-acoustic works at Electronic Music Midwest, the Studio 300 Digital Arts Festival, the International Conference on Auditory Display, the International Computer Music Conference, and more.

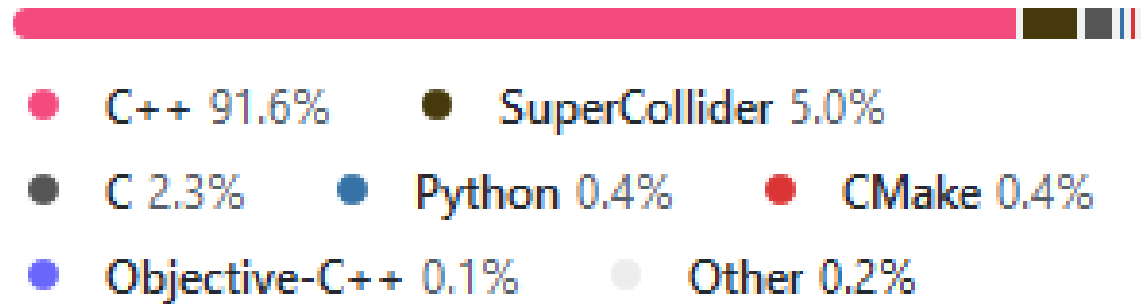

Dr. Shaw is now an assistant professor of music theory and composition at CSU Bakersfield.

ABOUT SUPERCOLLIDER

COMPUTER + CODING = GENERATING MUSIC (SOUND)

Languages

This computer music workshop a glimpse into the universe of creative, artistic possibilities that SuperCollider and audio coding provide.

WORKSHOP MATERIALS & INFO

PERSONAL LAPTOP

Participants bring their personal laptops + SuperCollider

<https://supercollider.github.io/>

YOUR EARPHONES/HEADPHONES

Participants also bring their earphones or headphones to be able to use their sound system of their laptops.

Please, download SuperCollider here before attending this workshop for fully participating into the activity of crafting your own sound:

HOST Dr. Kyle Shaw from CSUB's Music department

WHEN & WHERE

Date: 03/09/2023

Time: 1 PM to 2 PM

Location: #117 in SCI III, CSU Bakersfield

AGENDA

CODING

Coding itself can become a toy for people in many ways. Therefore, coding is a fun activity.

CODING + MUSIC

Coding alone with the instructor's performance is also an option with SuperCollider (C++)

LIVE CODING

Participants can appreciate live coding since it is also about how people interact with the world and each other via code!

WHY PIZZA?

"I don't mind pizza."

AND HOW MUCH?

POTENTIAL AUDIENCE + POTENTIAL COST

Open to all faculty members who are interested in learning how crafting sound and creating music can be done unconventionally.

Open to all CSUB students who are interested in learning how coding can become a playful tool musically.

int potential_maximum_number_of_headcount = 30;
int one_serving_individual_size_pizza = 11;
int beverage_delivery_cost = 20;

Total cost = 30 * $11 + $20 = $350

GOALS OF THE COMPUTER MUSIC WORKSHOP

1. INCREASE THE AWARENESS OF COMPUTER MUSIC

One year ago, the class could not be offered due to the low enrollment despite that we have a professor who is able to offer the computer music class.

2. CODING IS NOT STRESSFUL

By introducing this new field combined with computer science and music, further in graduate programs, art and technology more broadly, I want to broaden the sight of computer science people in CSUB.

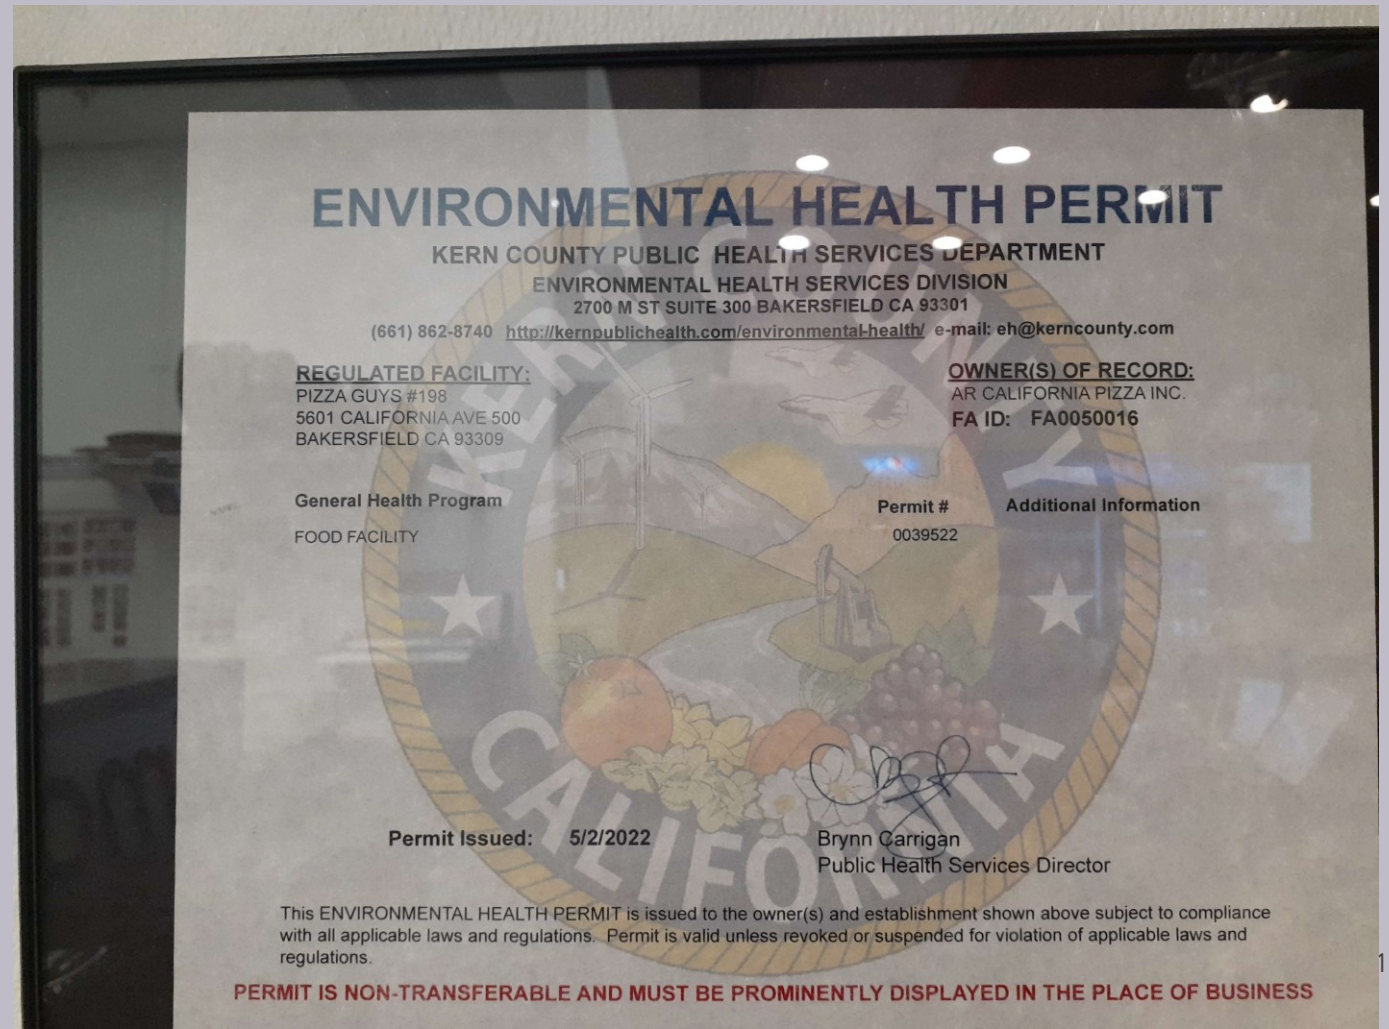

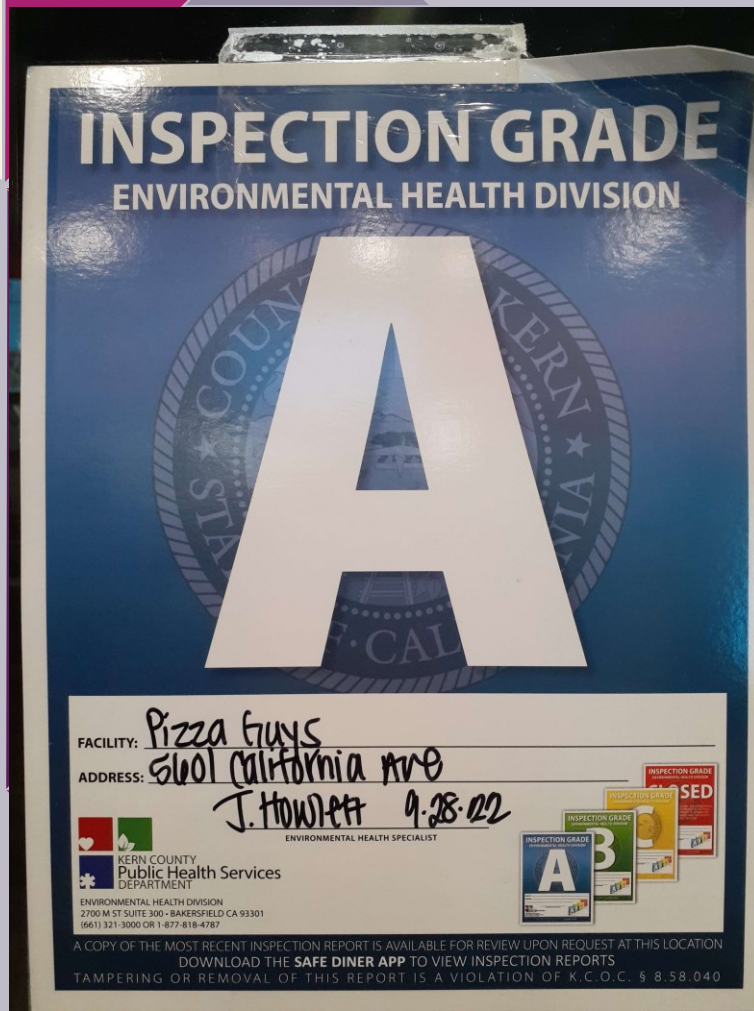

3. ONE MORE SESSION OF THE WORKSHOP

If this workshop is successful, I am willing to prepare one more session of workshop before I graduate. This way, I want to also help recruit next officers of both Software Engineering Club and CSUB Chapter of Society of Women Engineers as well as the Linux Club.
